THOUSANDS SEE RED FLIERS ROUT DOZEN BOMBERS

planes exhausted violently after a brief battle in the air. The rebels shot down in flames. Another went into a spin and crashed west of the city. A third whirled, dipped and limped away to the east, and the whole battle shifted away from the city's rooftops.

General Jose Miaja, chief of the defense forces, publicly hailed "another demonstration of our victory in the air" and said Madrid was prepared to withstand years of siege.

The victory came a few hours after 15 government fighter planes, bearing no machine guns, had scattered to hither and yon concentration along the Toledo highway south of the city.

6 RED PILOTS KILLED

It coincided with another aerial development unfavorable to the government—the death of six pilots in the crash of two bombers into a hillside, during thick weather.

Low-flying ships which sank insurgent tanks south of Madrid, however, failed to destroy the Carabanchel Bridge and Carabanchel, Alca, between Madrid and Getafe, the official report said.

Today's prompt attack by government planes, defense leaders declared, forestalled another air bombardment of the city.

It also demonstrated the air campaign against the city, now Madrid unshaken.

Previously, the government had been on the defensive. The attacking planes had been away from the city, and the government had been forced to retreat.

26 PLANES HELD READY

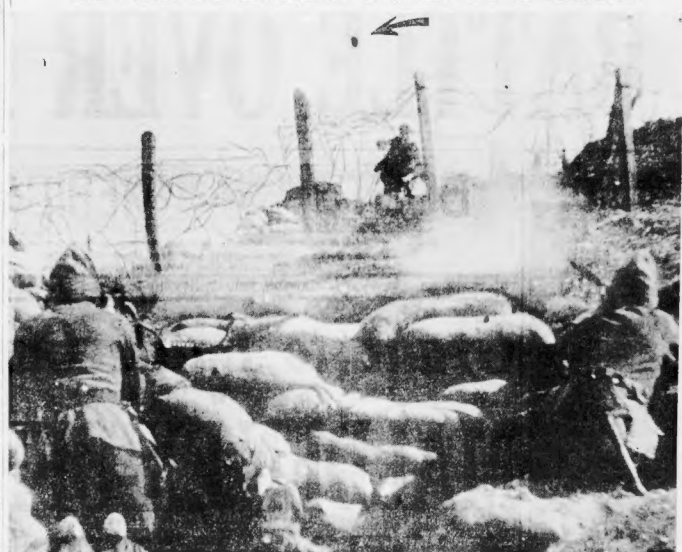

Now, however, the government has established a "temporary" base near Madrid, six warplanes a carefully guarded secret.

More than 20 patrol planes, defense officials asserted, have been detailed to the protection of the capital. All are of modern construction, each armed with from two to four machine guns, and each manned by an experienced pilot.

Confidence of the defense forces also showed with today's victory and the successful attack on the city, winning and dispersing with relative ease the insurgents because the Madrileños now might dare of aerial bombardment.

Park fighting was also during the day with both sides endeavoring to fortify their positions. However, the stage appeared to be for the air for another battle soon.

Grenade Beats Guns to Punch

Here is actual warfare in the Spanish rebellion. The movie cameraman, hidden in a tank-like protection box, pointed his lens out into the action. Note a hand grenade coming over the wire fence as the batter pulls down his arm in the follow-through swing after he lets the killing device go. Behind bags of sand the men with rifles seem to be preparing to flee the battle scene. A little later the hand grenade did explode and both men were either badly injured or died from injuries. This picture is just one of the most thrilling bits of real war scenes in "Revolt in Spain," now being shown at the Park Theater.

GREEN OUSTER SCHEDULED AS LABOR ASKS NRA

By EUGENE KELLY

Washington, Nov. 13 (U.S.)—Within six months William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, will be forced out of the United Mine Workers of America in which he holds his union card, Universal Service has learned.

Green has been ordered by the miners' organization to stand "trial" next Wednesday on charges he is attempting to wreck the union and that he is "interfering with our avowed enemies." His reply was a categorical denial of the charges and a blunt refusal to appear before the supreme court of the miners' union.

Other developments in the critical labor situation were:

1. The U. S. Labor Department was asked to investigate charges that workers in the steel industry are being "harassed" to sign a new wage agreement.

2. Members of the executive council of the A. F. of L. gathered in Tampa, Fla., for their annual convention, where they will vote on the question of expelling their "evil" officers.

3. The Committee for Industrial Organization, headed by John L. Lewis, is planning for the election of the C. I. O. on a "suspension" basis.

4. The National Executive Board of the miners' organization will go through the motions of giving Green a "hearing" next Wednesday.

5. The International board of the miners' organization is fully convinced that it will lay down "impossible" conditions for Green's good standing in their organization.

6. The miners take the view Green cannot be "ousted" by both the A. F. of L. and their organization.

PRESIDENT AIRS STAND ON WAGE FACTORS

Washington, Nov. 13 (AP).—Commenting on the proposal of some wage controllers to decrease wages by the rate of living, Mr. Hoover said today that the Federal Reserve Board, the National Labor Relations Board, and the Federal Trade Commission were all working to bring about a fair and equitable wage policy. He said that the Federal Reserve Board was the only one that was not working to bring about a fair and equitable wage policy. O'MALLEY'S SON MAROONED BY SHIP STRIKE

American marooned on the Hawaiian Islands because of a marine strike have petitioned the United States government to provide a cruiser to bring them back to this country. It was reported today in a cable received here by Captain J. O'Malley, Boston naval training center.

The cable was sent by Louis J. O'Malley of Honolulu, son of the well-known actor who with his father are among the thousands of Americans marooned stranded on the Pacific Islands.

In the cable O'Malley stated "The situation is very critical, due to the fact that the American ships are on strike."

The cableman in O'Malley said: "There are about a thousand Americans stranded on the islands and the only means available to get back to the mainland today is either by an American cruiser or some of the naval troop ships at Pearl Harbor."

There is only one passenger vessel, the Canadian Pacific Niagara, which will leave on November 26, but that has a full list of cruise passengers and it is very doubtful if they will take on any more at Honolulu. It is booked to its full capacity.

A petition has been signed by the marooned Americans requesting the United States government to furnish a cruiser or one of the troop ships to rescue them to the mainland.

FOOD SCARCITY LOW
"The food supplies on the island are very plentiful and many Americans are turning to the native food, but which is not very palatable to Americans."

"Marooned friends of the island and have been urged to appeal to the government to relieve the situation."

"Tomorrow, Saturday, the Chinese (Chinese) leaves for the mainland and friends are trying to get aboard while there are only a few tickets for about a dozen available."

"The situation is critical."

White House Won't Act on Ship Strike

Washington, Nov. 13 (UPI)—President Roosevelt at the prime time today said that the government would not act on the ship strike.

White House interview in the morning after the strike had begun, said that the government would not act on the ship strike.

Mill Fumes Kill
1. Overcomes 5

Johnston, Pa. (UPI)—A fire today at the mill of the American Lumber Co. killed five men and injured three.

A. W. Nordstrom, 46, killed and died as he walked by a pump. Three men were hospitalized in the mill. Another man, Arthur Nordstrom, and a mother and three children who lived nearby. The fire started in the mill and spread to the house.

Undertaker Gets Life for Murder
Oregon, U. S. (UPI)—A Portland, Ore. undertaker, charged with the murder of a woman, was sentenced to life in prison today for the murder of his wife. He was found guilty of first degree murder.

Bone Clue Fails In Torso Search
A piece of bone found in the water of Rock Island Cove, Boston's South End, today was identified as a possible clue in the Grayson, a woman's disappearance, murder case.

Readers' Stories of Moments
That Made or Broke Them

By FLOYD GIBBONS

I have been a page of mystery for a long time. I have seen many things that people in better positions would not have seen. I have seen the inside of a prison, the inside of a hospital, and the inside of a police station. I have seen the inside of a man's mind. I have seen the inside of a woman's heart. I have seen the inside of a child's soul. I have seen the inside of a man's life. I have seen the inside of a woman's life. I have seen the inside of a child's life. By LINDA GOLD

New York, Nov. 13.—An opinion on the outlook for the New England farm market, one of the latest and sharpest indices of market and business conditions, contributes to the following:

The outlook for the New England farm market is generally optimistic. The yield of the main crops is expected to be good, and the demand for farm products is expected to be strong. The price of farm products is expected to be high, and the income of the farmer is expected to be large.

Disagree On Rail Issue

The railroads, the American public, and the government are all at odds over the issue of the railroads. The railroads want to raise rates, the American public wants to keep rates low, and the government wants to keep rates low but also wants to keep the railroads from going bankrupt.

HARVARD SET ON PASSING DEFENSE

These authors have a great belief this year in speed. It is reported to be the ranking power in the East with a view for the "offensive". Three times against Notre Dame last week, Harvard was called on to back his team out of danger, and three times he responded with leading points that aided far over the safety men's head and gave the Harvard another breath.

Colorful Navy Grid Squad on its Arrival at South Station to Do Battle With John Harvard's Crew at Stadium Tomorrow

Captain Rivers Merrill, Jr. (indicated by arrow) led his squad of future Admirals into Boston for their annual game with Harvard at the stadium. The contest shaped up as one of the outstanding games in the list with Harvard having a slight edge. The sailors this year are blessed with a great kicker in speed Schmidt who will match his host's ability with Joe Roberts, coffin corner punter. Linesman Ferrara will be forced to work his teammates from the sidelines due to an injury. The squad will work out at the stadium this afternoon to polish off the rough edges and become acquainted with the air currents at the huge horseshoe across the Charles. Photo by Gus Williams.
